WE ARE COMMUNITY POWERED!

We're excited to celebrate Public Power Week October 6th – 12th, a national event to emphasize public power's local advantages. Kaukauna Utilities is one of about 2,000 not-for-profit, community-owned electric and water utilities across the country. Public power utilities operate as a public service, with a mission to provide reliable electricity and water at a reasonable cost with proper protection for the environment.

Our not-for-profit rates hold down your costs and are on average 30% lower than those of neighboring investor-owned utilities. We can keep our rates reasonable because we don't have to pay dividends to stockholders. Our returns go right back into the community.

When it comes to service, you know we're just down the street. We're proud to provide safe, reliable, affordable, sustainable, and customer-focused service to our community. And we are constantly keeping an eye on the future. We're proud to be your public power utility!
